Catching the Dream Program

Website: <http://catchingthedream.org/>

Award Amount: See Description for Amount

Deadline: Varies

Scholarship Description:

Catching the Dream seeks to address this deficiency. Our high-priority areas of study are math, engineering, science, business, education, and computers. These fields of study are critical to the future of Indian people and the nation, and Native Americans are very underrepresented in these fields. Catching the Dream is a national Native American education and scholarship center.

Our strategy is to:

- Actively seek out Native American high school students with academic potential from all regions and tribes of the United States and help prepare them for college
- Encourage and assist Native American high schools to establish college preparatory programs
- Establish information-sharing networks and national training sessions for teachers and administrators to strengthen their college preparatory programs
- Orient parents, grandparents, and tribal leaders so they can provide effective support for their college-bound students

Out To Protect Scholarship

Website: <https://www.comingoutfrombehindthebadge.com/scholarship-information/>

Deadline: November 20, 2020 at 5 PM

Award Amount: $500 - $1,000

Description:

Out to Protect offers a scholarship award for individuals who identify as gay, lesbian, bi-sexual, or transgender and who are pursuing a career in law enforcement by attending a basic law enforcement training program. This could be a basic police academy, sheriff's academy, corrections academy, or 9-1-1 dispatcher academy. We believe that one of the best ways of eliminating homophobia in law enforcement is by having positive and visible role models from the LGBT community serving in ranks of the law enforcement profession. We also recognize the courage required to "come out" and to be "out" on the job as a law enforcement professional. Our scholarships reward those individuals who have the courage and willingness to be visible role models in law enforcement. Scholarship awards range in amounts from $500 to $1000 and are typically announced in June and December of each year.

Scholarship requirements:

- Identify as gay, lesbian, bi-sexual, or transgender
- Be currently enrolled in a basic law enforcement training program in the United States (sponsored or self-sponsored)
- Demonstrate being a visible, positive role model for law enforcement
- Demonstrate being able to graduate from a law enforcement training program

Note: Scholarship applicants can be hired employees of an agency or self-sponsored students. Financial need is not a requirement to apply. Persons related to members of the Board of Directors are not eligible to apply.

To apply for a scholarship award, simply complete our online application form. Applicants may submit letters of recommendation from academy staff or peers. The Board of Directors will review all applications submitted and select the most qualified applicants for further consideration including reference checks. Finalists will be notified before reference checking begins.

Scholarship type: William Randolph Hearst Endowed Fellowship for Minority Students

Deadline: Current

Qualifications:

Candidates for this fellowship are highly motivated, current, non-graduating graduate or undergraduate students from underrepresented communities of color. Each candidate should have an excellent academic record and have the following:

1. Demonstrated interest or experience in nonprofit organizations, philanthropy, and the social sector;
2. Excellent research and writing skills;
3. Demonstrated financial need; and
4. U.S. citizenship or U.S. permanent residency. Students approved for participation in the federal Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program are eligible to apply.

This is not a scholarship. The student must be able to work as an intern for 12-15 weeks in the Washington, DC, office of the Aspen Institute during the academic semester in which the fellowship is awarded. Fall and Spring interns will work part-time (15-20 hours per week) and Summer interns will be full-time. All travel and housing costs must be covered by the student.

Info about Fellowship:

The Aspen Institute Program on Philanthropy and Social Innovation (PSI) in Washington, DC, offers the William Randolph Hearst Endowed Fellowship three times annually. The fellowship, which is based on academic excellence and need, is open to both undergraduate and graduate students of color. The Hearst Fellow serves as an intern with PSI in the Washington, DC office of the Aspen Institute. Through this fellowship, PSI seeks to introduce a diverse group of students to issues and challenges affecting philanthropy, social enterprise, nonprofit organizations, and other actors in the social sector. Recipients may arrange with their colleges or universities to receive academic credit for this experience.

The Aspen Institute Program on Philanthropy and Social Innovation seeks to inform and maximize the impact of grant making foundations, nonprofit organizations, social enterprises, and public-private partnerships through leadership development initiatives, convening, and communications so that each can contribute to the good society at home and abroad.

Fellowship Compensation: Fellows will be compensated on an hourly basis in the fall, spring and summer.

Website: <http://www.roothbertfund.org/scholarships.php>

Scholarship type: Scholarship

Deadline: The Roothbert Fund designates a three-month period from November 1 to February 1 in which applications are accepted for the following academic year.

Info about Scholarship:

The Fund is a small, nearly all-volunteer scholarship fund based in New York City, which awards yearly grants and works to foster fellowship among grant recipients. Once a year, the Fund accepts applications for grants, which include essays, transcripts and recommendations. From these written applications, the Fund identifies a group of finalists to be invited for a brief personal interview. On the basis of this interview, the Fund typically selects about 20 new scholarship recipients each year.

Eligibility: Roothbert Fund scholarships are open to all in the United States regardless of sex, age, color, nationality or religious background. While the Fund does not emphasize any form of religious practice or worship, it seeks to provide support to persons motivated by spiritual values. The Fund has awarded grants to persons entering a wide range of careers. However, preference will be given to those who can satisfy high scholastic requirements and are considering careers in education. For more information, applicants should read with care the Founders Prologue in the History and Mission of the Fund.

TERMS OF ACCEPTANCE

Acceptance of an award obligates the recipient to:

- maintain a high standard of work and conduct;
- have transcripts sent to the Fund by his or her school after each semester;
- attend at least one weekend fellowship meeting;
- keep a close relationship with the Fund through correspondence and visits;
- advise the Fund promptly of any change in his or her academic or financial situation.

Every award is subject to revocation if, in the opinion of the Fund, the holder fails to live up to these requirements.

Location of Applicants: As a rule, The Roothbert Fund does not make Scholarship Grants EXCEPT to applicants whose current or permanent address is located in one of the following States of the United States and applicants planning to move to one of such States prior to March 1 of the year in which the application is made: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, West Virginia, or North Carolina. It is probably counter-productive to apply if you live outside this area.

Size of grants: Grants are small (averaging $2,000-$3,000) and are meant to be supplementary. Aid is given for the ensuing school year.

The Application Process:

VERY IMPORTANT — BEFORE YOU CONSIDER APPLYING: Please note that applicant interviews are scheduled on extremely short notice in March and are typically held in New York, New Haven, Philadelphia and Washington, DC. The Fund will not pay any transportation charges or other costs of applicants who are invited to be interviewed. Persons who live at a significant distance from these cities should reconsider submitting an application, if the expense and time required to travel to any of those cities would be unduly burdensome. No grant is awarded by the Fund without a personal interview. However, submitting an application does not guarantee being invited for an interview, and being invited for an interview does not guarantee a scholarship.

In making a decision to apply, applicants should also keep in mind that if they are awarded a grant, they will be obligated to attend at least one weekend fellowship conference sponsored by the Fund during the first year on grant.

Obtaining an application: Because of its staff limitations, the Fund designates a three-month period from November 1 to January 31 each year in which printed applications forms are made available. Because forms are revised each year, applicants are discouraged from copying forms that may be on file with financial aid offices, or have been saved from prior years.

Requests by individuals for application forms should be directed to the Fund after November 1 for the ensuing academic year. The form includes requests for autobiographical essays, supporting transcripts and letters of recommendation.

Interviews: After the application forms are received, some candidates will be invited to an interview with the Scholarships Committee. The Fund does not make grants to applicants who are not invited to be interviewed. Interviews are held during March of each year at Fund headquarters in New York City and currently also in Washington, DC, New Haven, and Philadelphia. Before entering the competition, each applicant should consider carefully whether he or she can arrange to be present for such an interview and must affirm on the application form his or her intention to be present for an interview, if invited. The Fund does NOT reimburse applicants' travel or other expenses incurred in the interview process.

Announcement date: Awards are announced in late April. Grants are mailed to the grantees' institutions in August. Every award is subject to revocation if, in the opinion of the Fund, the holder fails to live up to these requirements.

Josephine De Karman Fellowship Trust

Website: <http://www.dekarman.org/>

Scholarship type: Fellowship

Deadline: In one package postmarked no later than midnight, January 31, 2021. Late applications will not be considered. Announcement of 2021-2022 award recipients will be made approximately April 15, 2021.

Qualifications: Applications are available at www.dekarman.org. If you wish to receive an application in the mail, submit your request via the website. Approximately eight (8) fellowships, $22,000 for graduate students and $14,000 for undergraduate students, will be awarded for the regular academic year (fall and spring semesters or the equivalent where the quarterly system prevails), paid through the fellowship office of the university in which the recipient is enrolled for study in the United States. Study must be carried out only in the United States and all funds must be expended only within this country. The fellowship is for one academic year and may not be renewed or postponed. DeKarman fellowships are open to students in any discipline, including international students, who are currently enrolled in a university or college located within the United States. Only candidates for the PhD who will defend their dissertation in or about June 2021 and undergraduates entering their senior year (will receive bachelor's degree in June 2020) are eligible for consideration. Postdoctoral and master's degree students are not eligible for consideration. Special consideration will be given to applicants in the Humanities.

Potential applicants should note that the competition for DeKarman fellowships is extreme. For the 2021-2022 cycle, the committee reviewed over 400 applications and awarded seven (7) fellowships. To be competitive, graduate applicants should have outstanding letters of recommendation, significant early scholarly contributions, and have completed several chapters of the dissertation at the time of application. Although the competition is open to graduate students from any US university, the vast majority of awards go to students at top-tier schools.

Additional Information of Interest to Applicants:

1. PhD students who are not citizens of the United States may apply for a Josephine de Karman Fellowship if they are already enrolled in a university located in the United States.
2. The fellowships will be paid directly through the fellowship office of the university in which the successful candidate is enrolled for study in the United States. One half will be paid in September and one half the following February. NO UNIVERSITY OVERHEAD MAY BE APPLIED TO THE FELLOWSHIP AWARD. UNIVERSITY FINANCIAL SUPPORT IS VIEWED AS SEPARATE FROM DE KARMAN FELLOWSHIP SUPPORT. THE FELLOWSHIP IS FOR MERIT, BASED ON A NATIONAL COMPETITION. THEREFORE, ONGOING UNIVERSITY SUPPORT COMMITMENTS ARE MAINTAINED WHILE A DE KARMAN FELLOWSHIP IS HELD.
3. The names, universities, and departments (and dissertation titles of PhD candidates) of Josephine de Karman Fellowship awardees may be published on the Dekarman.org website.
4. By the end of December following completion of their fellowship year, awardees are required to submit a one to two-page report on their achievements because of having held a Josephine de Karman Fellowship. This will normally be in the form of a letter to the Josephine de Karman Fellowship Committee, P.O. Box 3389, San Dimas, CA 91773. Graduate student awardees are asked to include with this letter a current abstract of their dissertation.

Kate Neal Kinley Memorial Fellowship

Website: http://faa.illinois.edu/kate_neal_kinley_memorial_fellowship

Scholarship type: Fellowship

Deadline: The application period for the 2020–21 fellowship cycle has ended. (Current)

Kate Neal Kinley possessed a keen interest in music and performance throughout her life. As a young woman growing up in Ohio, she studied music, and at the U of I she helped to find the Alpha Chi Omega sorority in 1899 and served as an honorary member of the Champaign Art Club. Upon her death in 1931, David Kinley created the Kate Neal Kinley Memorial Fellowship to promote advanced study in the fine arts. This fellowship not only reflected President Kinley's earlier appointment as dean of the College of Literature and Arts but, more importantly, acknowledged Kate Neal Kinley's persistent dedication to the arts on the Urbana-Champaign campus. The first award was made in 1932. Its continuance today is due to Kinley's original gift and to the dedication of family members. The Kate Neal Kinley Memorial Fellowship is also partially funded by the John Robert Gregg Fund at Community Funds, Inc., and The New York Community Trust.

Fellowship Guidelines:

Three major fellowships are awarded:

1. One of up to $20,000 in any field of music
2. One of up to $20,000 in architectural design and history, art and design, theatre, dance, or instrumental or vocal music
3. One of up to $9,000 in art, architecture, dance, landscape architecture, theatre, or urban and regional planning

Up to three additional fellowships of lesser amounts may also be granted upon committee recommendations.

The fellowships are to be used by the recipients toward defraying the expenses of advanced study in the United States or abroad. The fellowships are open to graduates of the College of Fine and Applied Arts of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign and to graduates of similar institutions of equal educational standing whose principal or major studies have been in the fields of art, architecture, dance, landscape architecture, music, theatre, and urban and regional planning.

Although there is no age limitation for applicants, other factors being equal, preference will be given to applicants who have not reached their 25th birthday.

Fellowships will be awarded on the basis of unusual promise in the fine arts as attested by

- high attainment in the applicant's major field of study as evidenced by academic marks and quality of work submitted or performed
- high attainment in related cultural fields as evidenced by academic marks
- the character, merit, and suitability of the program proposed by the applicant
- excellence of personality, seriousness of purpose, and good moral character

While receiving a stipend from the Kate Neal Kinley Memorial Fellowship, recipients are precluded from holding appointments as instructors, lecturers, or faculty members but may hold other remunerative employment with advance approval of the fellowship committee.

Applications should be sent to the following address:

Application Information - For Wellesley College Seniors and Alumnae. These awards are open to all nationalities. Merit and need will be considered in evaluating the applications. No late applications will be considered.

Deadline: Submitted by 11.59pm on January 27, 2021.

A complete application includes:

1. Application: Application Form— 3-page application plus Budget Analysis
2. Personal Statement: One-page, single-spaced personal statement. Ideally, this would be the essay you submitted in applying to graduate school, updated to reflect any graduate study you have completed.

3. Resume
4. Letters of Reference: Three (3) letters of reference sent by email from your instructors (email: fellowships@wellesley.edu) (See Guidelines). If a recommender cannot meet the application deadline, the reference should be sent by email to as a PDF attachment. The committee asks for comment on your past work, future promise, and character. If you are enrolled in a graduate school, ideally at least two of these letters should be from graduate instructors in your major field. If you are a candidate in music, your references should include an estimate of your general qualifications as a musician. We encourage you to obtain letters specifically addressing your plans for graduate study. Please give each recommender an account of your proposed study so that her/his comments may be directed toward the work planned.
5. Transcripts: Transcripts of grades from the institutions you listed in item 7 of the application titled with your name (Last Name, First Name: Wellesley College transcript). If you are currently in school, upload a transcript that includes fall grades as soon as it is available. Wellesley College alumnae and students should upload a copy of their Wellesley transcript and if applicable, transcripts from study abroad and any other institutions. If a transcript is not available by the deadline, you will need to upload a Transcript Placeholder so that your application can be uploaded without it. As soon as the transcript is available please send it electronically to: fellowships@wellesley.edu with your name (Last Name, First Name: WCGF) in the Subject line.
6. Supporting Materials: Additional materials are to be submitted separately, but in the same email as your application.

Scholarship type: Fellowship

Deadline: Artists may apply only once every 24 months. MacDowell will only accept applications for the next deadline. Please refer to the applications dates in the column on the left for open application time periods.

Application Periods:

Winter/Spring 2020

Deadline: September 15, 2020

Summer 2020

Deadline: January 15, 2021

Fall 2020

Deadline: April 15, 2021

Application Guidelines:

The MacDowell Colony provides time, space, and an inspiring environment to artists of exceptional talent. A MacDowell Fellowship, or residency, consists of exclusive use of a studio, accommodations, and three prepared meals a day for up to eight weeks. There are no residency fees. MacDowell Fellows are selected by our admissions panels, which are comprised of a revolving group of distinguished professionals in each artistic discipline who serve anonymously for three years.

Eligibility:

The Colony accepts applications from artists working in the following disciplines: architecture, film/video arts, interdisciplinary arts, literature, music composition, theatre, and visual arts. The sole criterion for acceptance is artistic excellence, which the Colony defines in a pluralistic and inclusive way. MacDowell encourages applications from artists representing the widest possible range of perspectives and demographics, and welcomes artists engaging in the broadest spectrum of artistic practice and investigating an unlimited array of inquiries and concerns. To that end, emerging as well as established artists are invited to apply. Applicants who are in a degree program as of the date of application are ineligible for a residency and therefore cannot apply. MacDowell is committed to a policy of nondiscrimination and equal opportunity for all persons regardless of race, sex, color, religion, creed, national origin or ancestry, age, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, and disability. No one with the AIDS virus, or HIV shall be denied admission as long as he/she is otherwise qualified. The Colony offers barrier-free access in all main buildings and some studios.

Application Periods and Deadlines:

Artists may apply only once every 24 months. MacDowell will only accept applications for the next deadline. Please refer to the applications dates in the column on the left for open application time periods.

Application Process:

Before starting the application process, we encourage applicants to scroll through our extensive list of Application FAQs. All applicants apply through the online application process. To apply, click on the Apply icon. Applicants are not required to mail in hard copies of the application forms.

Work Samples:

Work samples supporting the proposed project and completed within the past four years are requested. All work samples are uploaded and submitted through the online application. Applicants unable to submit new work for the panel to review should include a note of explanation. Those applicants whose proposed project does not fall clearly within an artistic discipline should contact the Admissions office to discuss which discipline would best fit the proposed work. For detailed work sample requirements for each artistic discipline, click here.

References: Applicants are required to have one reference form on file completed by an authority in their field who is familiar with them and their work. Applications that do not have a completed reference form on file will be considered incomplete and will not be reviewed. Reference letters are confidential and will be kept on file for five years.

Applicants: The reference process is initiated by you, the applicant, from within the online application. You will add the name and contact information for your recommender in the Reference step of the application and a secure link will be sent to your recommender. This can be done in advance of submitting your application. It is your responsibility to ensure the request is fulfilled. The deadline for all references is one week after the application deadline.

Recommenders: As a recommender, you will receive an automated email from SlideRoom once the applicant has entered your contact information. This email will contain a link specifically tied to the applicant, which should be used to complete the recommendation. The deadline for all references is one week after the application deadline.

If a recommender cannot submit a reference online, please contact the Admissions Department at admissions@macdowellcolony.org or 603-924-3886 (ext. 113).

Processing Fee: A nonrefundable processing fee of $30 (U.S.) is required with each application. Applicants pay the processing fee by debit or credit card through a secure site on the online application.

Notification: Applicants will be notified of admission status approximately 10 weeks after the applicable deadline, on or near the dates listed below:

Summer residency notification: March 15

Fall residency notification: June 15

Winter/Spring residency notification: November 15

Collaborations: Artists collaborating on a project must submit individual application forms and appropriate work samples, along with a joint description of the work they intend to do at the Colony. Work space needs should be clearly specified (i.e. whether or not separate studios are required), and an example of a previous collaborative work (either completed or in progress) may also be submitted. Admission status is determined by averaging the individual application scores of all collaborators.

Couples: Couples must apply individually. If both are accepted, each will be offered a studio. There are no provisions for partners or children at the Colony.

Reapplication: All applicants, including artists who have had previous residencies at MacDowell, must submit a complete application that includes recent work samples.

Mayo Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship (SURF) Program

Website: <http://www.mayo.edu/mgs/programs/summer-undergraduate-research-fellowship>

Scholarship type: Research Fellowship

Deadline: Current

Classification: Undergraduate students

Information: for scientific research alongside, professional biomedical scientists

Stipend and Benefits: The Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship Program award is $5,000 for 10 weeks. From this stipend, students are responsible for their own travel, housing and meals. Student housing is available starting at around $650 a month.

Each year, approximately 130 undergraduate students from around the U.S. come to Mayo Clinic's campus in Rochester, Minnesota, to work beside both young and established scientists on a broad range of biomedical research questions. A select number of fellowships are also available at the Mayo Clinic campuses in Jacksonville, Florida, and Scottsdale, Arizona. A limited number of NIH-funded Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship positions are available to underrepresented students for research in the fields of cardiovascular, pulmonary and hematological diseases.

Applicants who have applied for summer can check their application status online.

Application Process:

To apply to the Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship (SURF) Program, you need to submit:

- A completed online SURF application
- A 1-2-page description of your career goals and the steps you have already taken to achieve those goals

- An official transcript is preferred but an unofficial transcript is also accepted
- Two letters of recommendation from research mentors or undergraduate teachers

Eligibility:

You can apply for the Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship (SURF) Program if you:

- Is a student currently in your sophomore or junior year at a U.S. college or university?
- Have a grade point average of at least 3.0 (4.0 scale)
- Are seriously considering a biomedical research career as a Ph.D. or M.D.-Ph.D.

International students who are attending a U.S. college or university are eligible to apply.

Website: <https://careers.microsoft.com/students/us/en/usscholarshipprogram>

Scholarship type: Diversity Scholarship

Deadline: The Conference Scholarship application will re-open in 2021. (Current)

Qualifications: To be eligible, you must be enrolled full time in a bachelor's degree program at a 4-year college or university in the United States, Canada, or Mexico at the time you submit the application. Plus, we'll need to see that you're making satisfactory progress toward an undergraduate degree in computer science, computer engineering, or a related technical discipline such as electrical engineering, math, or physics—and that you demonstrate an interest in computer science. Because the scholarship is merit based, you must maintain a 3.0 cumulative grade point average out of a possible 4.0, or a 4.0 cumulative grade point average out of a possible 5.0.

Award information: benefits for one academic year. You may receive either a full or partial scholarship for the academic year. Full tuition scholarships will cover tuition for the academic year as posted by the financial aid office at your college or university. Microsoft will make payments to the designated school, and they're not transferable to other academic institutions. You may use the funds for tuition only—not for other costs listed on your bursar bill, such as room and board.

Paul and Daisy Soros Foundation Fellowship for New Americans

Website: <http://www.pdsoros.org/>

Scholarship type: Fellowship

Deadline October 29, 2020 at 2pm ET.

Classifications: For seniors or recent graduates

Qualifications: To be eligible for the Class of 2019, you must be a New American who is 30 or younger as of the application deadline, and who is planning on starting or continuing an eligible graduate degree program full time in the United States in the 2021-2022 academic year. Applicants may apply to the Fellowship while they are applying to graduate school, or after they are already enrolled in graduate school. However, applicants must not have started or passed the third year of the graduate program that they are seeking funding for in the 2021-22 academic year as of October 29, 2020.

Every year, The Paul & Daisy Soros Fellowships for New Americans supports thirty New Americans, immigrants or the children of immigrants, who are pursuing graduate school in the United States. Full eligibility requirements can be found here.

Each Fellowship supports up to two years of graduate study in any field and in any advanced degree-granting program in the United States. Each award is for up to $25,000 in stipend support (not to exceed $40,000), as well as 50 percent of required tuition and fees, up to $20,000 per year, for two years. The first year of Fellowship funding cannot be deferred.

Most importantly, new Fellows join a strong community of current and past Fellows who all share the New American experience. There is an alumni association, The Paul & Daisy Soros Fellows Association (PDSFA) that actively engages current and past Fellows in events held across the country. For example, in 2015 the PDSFA held events with US Surgeon General Vivek Murthy (1998 Fellow) in both New York City and Washington, DC.

The competition is merit-based. Selection criteria emphasize creativity, originality, initiative, and sustained accomplishment. The program values a commitment to the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. The program does not have any quotas for types of degrees, universities or programs, countries of origin, or gender, etc. Unsuccessful applicants are welcome to reapply in subsequent years if they are still eligible.

Application Cycle Timeline:

The application for the 2021 Fellowship is due October 29, 2020 at 2 pm ET. The top 77 applicants for the 2021 cycle will be designated "finalists" and will be asked to appear for interviews in New York City or California in early February of 2021. The Fellowship program will cover travel and accommodation for the interviews. The 30 2021 Fellowship winners, selected from among the 77 finalists, will be notified in March of 2021. They will begin to receive stipend and tuition support from the program in the fall of 2021.

UNITED STATES
INSTITUTE OF PEACE

Website: <https://www.usip.org/grants-fellowships/fellowships/jennings-randolph-senior-fellowship-program>

Scholarship type: Dissertation Fellowship

Deadline: (Current)

Classifications: Ph.D., S.J.D., Ed. D., Th. D

Qualifications: The JR Program for International Peace awards Peace Scholar Dissertation Fellowships to students enrolled in U.S. universities who are researching and writing doctoral dissertations on topics related to international conflict management and peacebuilding. Proposals from all disciplines are welcome.

Proposals should be consistent with the Institute's mission and present a research agenda with clear relevance to policy issues. Historical topics are appropriate if they promise to shed light on contemporary issues. Area studies projects and single case studies will be competitive if they focus on conflict and its resolution, apply to other regions and cases, or both.

Peace Scholar awards may not be made for projects that constitute policymaking for a government agency or private organization, focus to any substantial degree on conflicts within U.S. domestic society, or adopt a partisan, advocacy, or activist stance.

Eligible Candidates:

Citizens of any country may apply. Applicants must be enrolled in recognized doctoral programs (for example, Ph.D., S.J.D., Ed. D., Th.D.) in accredited universities in the United States. Successful candidates must have completed all course work and examinations towards their doctoral degrees by the time their fellowship begins.

Selection Process:

Peace Scholar applications are vetted through a rigorous, multi-stage review that includes consideration by independent experts and professional staff at the Institute. The final authority for decisions about Peace Scholar awards rests with the Institute's Board of Directors.

Selection Criteria:

In addition to the considerations listed above, selection of fellowship candidates is based on the following criteria:

- Project significance: Does the project address an important topic of relevance to the USIP mission and the field of international peacebuilding and conflict management and analysis?
- Policy and/or practitioner relevance: Does the project demonstrate links to policy and practice in the fields of conflict management, conflict analysis and peacebuilding?
- Project Design: Is the project soundly conceived? Does it identify a key problem to be analyzed and does it have a clear methodology?
- Potential as a Peace Scholar: What is the applicant's record of achievement and/or leadership potential? What is the applicant's capacity to benefit from and make professional use of the fellowship experience in subsequent years?

Terms of Award:

Peace Scholar Awards are currently set at $20,000 per academic year and are paid directly to the individual. Peace Scholar awards may not be deferred. They generally may not be combined with any other major residential award or fellowship except with the written approval of the Institute.

Peace Scholars carry out their fellowship work at their universities or other sites appropriate to their research. They are expected to devote full attention to their work and provide periodic reports to the Institute. Peace Scholars may be invited to give a presentation at the Institute, to work with Institute staff to present their work on the USIP website via an interview with a USIP staff member or their own writing, and/or to participate in Institute workshops, conferences and other activities.

Award information:

Peace Scholar Awards are currently set at $20,000 for 10 months and are paid directly to the individual. Peace Scholar awards may not be deferred. They generally may not be combined with any other major award or fellowship except in special circumstances and with the written approval of the Institute.

Scholarship type: Fellowship

Deadline: Dec. 15, 2020 - Application portal opens

Late March/Early April 2021: Applicants must apply through their local chapter.

Chapter deadlines vary; typically two weeks prior to the national deadline. Check with your chapter.

April 30, 2021: National deadline

About Fellowship:

Every year, The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi awards 51 Fellowships of $5,000 each and six at $15,000 each to members entering their first year of graduate or professional study. Each Phi Kappa Phi chapter may select one candidate from among its local applicants to compete for the Society-wide.

To apply for a Phi Kappa Phi Fellowship, you must:

- Be an active member of Phi Kappa Phi (annual dues paid by April 15 of the current year) or have accepted membership by June 30 of the year in which you are applying. Applications will be accepted from individuals selected for membership but not yet initiated; see the application form for details.
- Have applied to enroll as a full-time student in a post-baccalaureate program of study for the current academic year. Accredited international institutions are acceptable.

Please note:

- International students are eligible.

- Students registering in all professional and graduate fields are eligible.
- Applicants who have successfully completed 10 or more graduate credits on or before April 15 are not eligible.
- Winners may defer for up to two years, pending approval.

Selection Criteria:

Selection is based on the applicant's promise of success in graduate or professional study, as evidenced by:

- Academic achievement, including transcripts, honors and awards, relevant research experience, standardized test scores, and samples of creative work
- Service and leadership experience, on and off campus
- Letters of recommendation
- Personal statement and career goals
- Work Sample
- Acceptance at an approved graduate or professional program

Deadline and Notification:

- Submit your complete application packet to your Phi Kappa Phi chapter no later than the date they have set. Your chapter's address may be found on the online Chapter Directory. Each chapter will select one applicant as its nominee for the competition.
- All Fellowship recipients will be announced no later than June 15.

To Apply:

You may complete the application online and print it out. You'll then submit the application, official transcripts, test scores (if applicable), work sample, and two letters of recommendation to your local chapter by their deadline.
